

"You can tell a show is genuinely radical when it somehow both scares you and instills in you the thrill of power."

-Lily Janiak, San Francisco Chronicle

READ MORE

Celebrating a jubilant, anarchic, wildly successful Opening Night!

Our post-show champagne toast on Opening Night this past Monday was dedicated to something spectacular: our theater company has survived - and thrived - for 20 years in San Francisco! Crowded Fire honored our roots by welcoming back founding artistic director, Rebecca Novick, to lead our brilliant team of revolutionary artists in producing a nearly impossible play. The audience, reviewers included, were rapt as they rolled with laughter and shook with tears in what current Artistic Director, Mina Morita, has called "the most honest piece I have ever had the privilege to help produce." Join us before March 24th to experience REVOLT. SHE SAID. REVOLT AGAIN. for yourself.